Happy Valley Adventures will be humming with a rally of up to 90 European-style scooters this Saturday, as part of Nelson man Mark Brown's National Classic Scooter Rally.

Mr Brown, who himself owns 30 classic scooters, has organised the three-day rally, which will see participants ride up Happy Valley's popular Bayview circuit on Saturday morning.

Between 50 and 90 scooters are expected to meet at the Cable Bay adventure site at 10am.

Mr Brown said the rally would feature a range of scooters.

“They're mostly from the 1940s through to the early 1970s, so these are made of metal, not like today's plastic scooters.”

Much of the rally, which runs from Friday to Sunday, would be played “by ear”, he said.
